

SpeakUp 2018-19

The community building research tool that teachers and administrators use to learn what their K-12 students, parents and staff really think about key education issues today including digital learning

Open through June 28, 2019

Make a difference in education today! Join the over 5.5 million K-12 students, teachers, administrators, parents and community members who have participated in Speak Up since 2003 – making the Speak Up data set the largest collection of authentic feedback from K-12 stakeholders on digital learning ever assembled. Now, thanks to our partner, Project Tomorrow, NMSTE members have a unique opportunity to share their voice here today! Time to Speak Up!

Be part of a new movement to improve education for all! It's time to Speak Up!

Share your ideas now

Last year, more than half of teachers across the U.S. said their top PD need was for professional learning experiences to be able to use technology more effectively. We want to hear from you about what YOU are looking for to continue to improve our offerings. Complete the 15 question survey here:

<http://bit.ly/SpeakUpNMSTE>

**You will also have the option to opt in to receiving a copy of the national Speak Up results so that you can see how your ideas align with your peers nationwide.

Get your school involved

School leaders we know that you have great ideas about the future of education – that is why you are here at NMSTE this week. You can also use Speak Up to gain new insights from your students, parents, staff and colleagues about their views on the future of education. Register your school to participate in Speak Up today at:

speakup.tomorrow.org/register.aspx

Encourage participation

Speak Up is not just for school-wide participation, Speak Up provides an opportunity for anyone with an interest in education to share their ideas. Please encourage your colleagues, friends and family to have a voice in the future of education at:

speakup.tomorrow.org

Project Tomorrow is a global education nonprofit organization dedicated to the empowerment of K-12 stakeholder voices in education, most notably the voices of our students. With 22 years of experience in education, Project Tomorrow regularly provides consulting and research support around key trends in K-12 science, math, and technology education to school districts, government agencies, business, and higher education. The Speak Up Research Project is our flagship initiative enabling K-12 schools and districts to embrace and leverage the views of their stakeholders to improve teaching and learning experiences for all. Learn more about how you can be part of the Speak Up movement at www.tomorrow.org.